

ABOUT ESYNYC

Edible Schoolyard NYC (ESYNYC) is on a mission to make edible education accessible for every child in New York City. We believe edible education—where kids experience hands—on cooking and gardening—helps kids gain the skills to contribute to a healthy and sustainable food system for us all. Edible education helps students build healthy relationships with food, their community, and their environment. Together with public school communities across the city, we're building spaces for kids to flourish.

WITH THE SUPPORT OF OUR PARTNERS, ESYNYC:

- Leads hands-on programs where students explore gardening and cooking
- Provides professional development to NYC educators to help them incorporate edible education into their own classrooms
- Distributes free food from our gardens to students' families during dismissal, at community events, and at our Community Farmstands
- Advocates for policies that support universal access to edible education and healthy food for families in NYC
- Stewards school gardens, which serve as a food production and welcoming green space and outdoor classroom for the entire community

ABOUT THE SPRING RECEPTION

Celebrating Edible Schoolyard NYC in support of healthy students and sustainable school communities across the city.

Edible Schoolyard NYC is excited to present its third annual Spring Reception on May 14, 2025 in the beautiful West Room and Green House spaces at Nine Orchard, New York City.

This fundraising event will bring together approximately 120 friends of ESYNYC to savor a special menu curated by Chef Charlie Mitchell. Guests will enjoy a cocktail reception with canapes, followed by a seated dinner, with the opportunity to learn more about our incredible programs and to meet friends and leaders of Edible Schoolyard NYC.

ABOUT CHARLIE MITCHELL:

Charlie Mitchell, the Michelin Starred and James Beard Award-winning Executive Chef, leads Saga, a two-star Michelin restaurant in New York City. At just 32 years old, Mitchell has earned remarkable accolades, including his recent win as Best Chef in New York City at the 2024 James Beard Awards. This marks his second year as a nominee and makes him the only NYC chef to secure a victory at this year's awards.

Before joining Saga, Mitchell helmed Clover Hill, where he made history by earning the restaurant a Michelin star and becoming the first Black chef in NYC to achieve this honor. In 2022, he also received the Michelin Guide New York Young Chef Award, further establishing himself as a trailblazer.

A Detroit native, Mitchell is redefining fine dining by creating an atmosphere inspired by New York City's rich artistic culture. His experience at renowned establishments like Eleven Madison Park and Betony has shaped his deep understanding of luxury dining.
